

51st Annual Covered Bridge Festival

Wednesday, October 13, 2010

Join us for a fun day in Mansfield, Indiana. Indiana's historic Parke County, is home to 32 covered bridges. We will spend a full day at the Covered Bridge Festival. If you are a lover of craft markets, antiques and flea markets, this trip is for you. Quiet scenic Mansfield is transformed into a shopper's mecca. Hundreds of vendors selling everything you can imagine. Meander across the old town covered bridge that spans Big Raccoon Creek to the rustic Mansfield grist mill which is still in operation. Stroll around town and visit with the people in the food stands serving up great country cooking; sample the local favorites including giant turkey legs, juicy pork tenderloins, piping hot cinnamon rolls, freshly made funnel cake, kettle corn and apples topped with hot caramel. See the horse plodding along churning ice cream. Shop in the many booths and tents of the crafters and artisans then search for special treasures at the huge flea market. Enjoy a full day of country fun and wonderful photo opportunities on this delightful fall trip. Our annual to Mansfield is on Wednesday to take advantage of the smallest festival crowds. This is a shopping day with opportunities during the day to stow your purchases in the coach.
